About the Centre

The Centre for Social Research in Health (CSRH) is a specialist research centre based in UNSW Arts and Social Sciences. Our mission is to undertake and promote exemplary social and behavioural science research in health that informs and strengthens knowledge, policy and practice.

Our research is guided by our commitment to:

- Integrity and excellence in academic research
- A multidisciplinary approach to research and education
- Actively ensuring our unique and critical perspectives are heard
- Collaboration and engagement with affected communities, and
- Valuing diversity and promoting equity.

Since its establishment in 1990 as the National Centre in HIV Social Research, the scope of our research program has evolved to influence and respond to a broad range of national and international health strategies and priorities, with the ultimate aim of improving the health and wellbeing of affected individuals and communities.

Our researchers are leaders in their fields, with a strong reputation in the academic community, lending authority to our work and influence to public debate. We are committed to contributing to effective policy and practice by working in partnership with community, government and research partners.

The Centre fosters the talents of the next generation of social science researchers through support for early career researchers and our postgraduate research program.

We receive funding from a range of sources, including the Australian Government Department of Health, state and territory government departments/ministries of health, competitive funding bodies, partner organisations and international sources.

Director's Report

2014 was yet another big year for CSRH with the Centre continuing to thrive. While all the achievements of our staff and students are documented throughout this report, there are some in particular that I would like to briefly highlight.

A standout achievement is that CSRH staff produced yet another record number of publications, exceeding the marked increase we saw in 2013. We initiated several exciting new projects in 2014, including an EU-funded people exchange program on narrative health communication, in partnership with universities in The Netherlands, Belgium, Germany and Western Australia. A UNSW consortium of CSRH and the Kirby Institute was awarded the NSW BBV&STI Research, Intervention and Strategic Evaluation (BRISE) program, a 5-year comprehensive research, knowledge exchange and capacity building program tendered by NSW Health.

We also organised the highly successful 13th Social Research Conference on HIV, Viral Hepatitis and Related Diseases, which was perhaps the most exciting in the series I attended. Building on a session at this conference and our long history in community engagement, we ran a symposium on HIV criminalisation, stigma and discrimination for World AIDS Day, involving academic, community and legal perspectives. CSRH also had a strong presence at AIDS 2014, through both our contributions to the conference organisation and our presentations. Unfortunately the proceedings of this first in the series of International AIDS Conferences to be held in Australia were overshadowed by the loss of our friends and colleagues on board flight MH15. We remember them all with affection.

After nearly 15 years with the centre, the wonderful Janice Knapman retired from the Centre to focus on life's other priorities. We also said goodbye to Judi Rainbow and wish her all the best. We welcomed Mandy Schippers who joined us as e-Research Developer. I am also very pleased that several esteemed colleagues joined the centre as visiting or adjunct fellows and we welcomed Gary Dowsett (Adjunct Professor), Denton Callander (Adjunct Lecturer), Grenville Rose (Adjunct Lecturer) and Zong Yu (Visiting Fellow). I congratulate Peter Aggleton with his appointments as UNSW Scientia Professor, Visiting Professorial Fellow at the UCL Institute of Education, and Adjunct Professor in the Australian Research Centre in Sex, Health and Society. Congratulations also go to Martin Holt for his Endeavour Executive Fellowship awarded by the Australian Government Department of Education and Training.

The research team behind the Gay Community Periodic Surveys (Martin Holt, John de Wit, Peter Hull, Toby Lea, Evelyn Lee, and Limin Mao) must also be congratulated as recipients of the 2014 UNSW Arts and Social Sciences Dean's Research Award for Social Impact, alongside Dean Murphy who was awarded the Dean's Research Award for Most Publishable Manuscript by an Early Career Researcher or Higher Degree Completer. I congratulate Joanne Bryant and Christy Newman who were appointed Joint Editors of Health Sociology Review, and Philippe Adam who was appointed Associate Editor of Frontiers in HIV and AIDS. Congratulations also go to Denton Callander, Maude Frances, Hannah Wilson and Dean Murphy who all completed their postgraduate research degrees at CSRH.

My sincere thanks go to all at CSRH, our collaborators and our funders for making 2014 such a successful year.

John de Wit

Performance Targets and Achievements

Our work is guided by the CSRH Strategic Plan 2012-2015. This responds to the Australian Government's five national strategies for blood-borne viruses and sexually transmissible infections (National BBV & STI Strategies 2014-2017), and supports the UNSW Strategic Intent (Blueprint to Beyond) and priorities of UNSW Arts & Social Sciences.

CSRH performance targets encompass outcomes related to supporting and promoting research; education, including learning, teaching and students' experience; external engagement; and capabilities and resources. CSRH achievements against agreed key performance targets for 2014 are outlined in the following table.

| Key Performance Targets | Achievements |
|---|---|
| Bolster research project funding | In the current climate of fiscal restraint, CSRH has been very successful in obtaining research funding that is on par with previous years. In addition to renewed and continued funding from established funders we have also obtained funding from new sources. We also successfully navigated the NSW Health transition from research grants to research tenders. |
| Sustain strong publication profile | The number of publications produced by CSRH staff included in the Higher education Research Collection has further increased, from the marked rise in 2013; for these publications we preferentially target esteem journals and publishers. We also launched a social media presence in 2014 to coincide with our bi-ennial conference. |
| Intensify impact on policy and practice | CSRH research continues to be at the forefront of the policy and practice agenda. CSRH publications are widely cited in policy documents, CSRH staff participate in many policy committees and regularly present at critical policy and practice forums. In 2014 CSRH staff significantly increased their contribution to workforce capacity building in NSW and internationally. |
| Extend collaborations within FASS | In 2014 CSRH staff collaborated on more tenders and research grant applications than before with colleagues at the Social Policy Research Centre. CSRH and SPRC also jointly and successfully applied for funding from the UNSW Major Research Equipment and Infrastructure Initiative. CSRH staff convened and contributed to courses of the School of Social Sciences, developed a new joint course with the School of Education, and initiated development of a joint course with the School of Social Sciences. |
| Increase international partnerships | In CSRH staff continued and extended visiting appointments at international universities. CSRH staff also developed research grant applications with partners in the region, North America and Europe. CSRH staff initiated new collaborations in Southeast Asia with international partners. |

In 2015, CSRH operations will continue to be guided by the following priority key performance objectives:

- Bolster research project funding
- Sustain strong publication profile
- Intensify impact on policy and practice
- Extend collaborations within UNSW Arts & Social Sciences
- Increase international partnerships.

Research

Our research is organised into five key areas:

HIV, sexual health risk and risk reduction

We focus our research on key population groups, including gay men and other men who have sex with men, people from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds, people in serodiscordant relationships, and sexually active young people.

Viral hepatitis, injecting drug use and harm reduction

We investigate a wide range of issues regarding hepatitis C risk and prevention, illicit drug injecting, and risk and harm reduction, including in intimate relationships.

Living with, and treatment of, serious and chronic conditions

Our research encompasses studies of the impact and lived experience of various health-related conditions on those directly affected as well as their carers and their communities.

Sexuality, health and education

We explore the diversity of expression of sexuality and sexual identities, issues of gender in relation to sexuality, the health and wellbeing of sexual and gender diverse individuals and communities, and sex and sexuality education.

Health promotion development and evaluation

Our work is concerned with the development and evaluation of innovative interventions that improve prevention, diagnosis, treatment and responses to care needs across health domains.

A list of all research projects appears in the appendices.

Postgraduate Research Program

CSRH offers a postgraduate program that provides students with the skills needed to undertake high quality research, contribute to academic and policy debates, and inform best practice. We offer expert supervision, from a diversity of social and behavioural science perspectives, for postgraduate research into the social and behavioural aspects of HIV, sexual health, sexual practices, viral hepatitis and drug use and related areas of education, health and wellbeing. Our students are passionate, engaged and motivated to understand and influence change in the fields of health, sex, drugs and risk.

The postgraduate research degrees offered are Doctor of Philosophy (PhD), Master of Arts by Research (MA) and a Graduate Diploma (GradDip). Our program has links with other programs in the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences, in particular the School of Social Sciences, and in the Faculty of Medicine, notably the School of Public Health and Community Medicine and The Kirby Institute.

Graduates

Supervisors: John de Wit and Martin Holt

Knowledge Exchange and Capacity Building

CSRH is committed to contributing to effective and appropriate policy and practice, by working in partnership with community, government and research partners. We are concerned with strengthening research partnerships, building research capacity, and providing learning opportunities to stakeholders.

Australia Forum on Sexuality, Education and Health

Aim: To bring together researchers, practitioners, community leaders and policy makers across the fields of sexuality, education and health, to discuss and debate contemporary issues and concerns, build and consolidate networks, and develop joint projects and initiatives.

Status: Ongoing

CSRH staff: Peter Aggleton

Funding of CSRH contribution: NSW Ministry of Health; Australian Government Department of Health

CSRH Consortium for Health and Wellbeing at the Margins

Aim: To continue a successful program of workshops that respond to the research needs of the HIV, hepatitis C and related diseases sector, examine new and innovative research methods, and provide non-researchers with the opportunity to become familiar with fundamental elements of research design and practice.

Status: Ongoing

CSRH staff: Carla Treloar and all researchers

Funding of CSRH contribution: Sector partners; Australian Government Department of Health

PozHet Needs Assessment

Aim: To provide expert advice to the NSW heterosexual HIV service (PozHet) regarding the preparation, implementation and reporting of a needs assessment survey.

Status: Ongoing

CSRH staff: Philippe Adam

Funding of CSRH contribution: UNSW

Social Research Conference on HIV, Hepatitis and Related Diseases

Aim: To host a biennial conference on HIV, hepatitis and related diseases that facilitates engagement with research and practice among researchers, health professionals, policy makers and community members.

Status: Ongoing

CSRH staff: Conference Organising Committee

Funding of CSRH contribution: Conference sponsors; Australian Government Department of Health

ACON Substance Support Service Evaluation

Aim: To examine whether engagement with alcohol and other drug treatment is associated with improved substance use and other outcomes during treatment and at treatment cessation (secondary analysis of treatment outcomes from ACON's Substance Support Service).

Status: Completed

CSRH staff: Toby Lea, Martin Holt

Funding of CSRH contribution: ACON, NSW Ministry of Health; Australian Government Department of Health

Knowledge Transfer and Capacity Building Project

Aim: To generate and disseminate knowledge from HIV/STI research to affected communities, community-based organisations, health service providers and policy makers in NSW.

Status: Completed

CSRH staff: John de Wit and all researchers

Funding of CSRH contribution: Sector partners; Australian Government Department of Health

Engagement and Impact

Our work supports the development of policies and programs through workshops, seminars and presentations; research feedback; policy and program advice and access to resources. We also contribute to knowledge transfer as members of government, community and academic committees and boards.

Research communication

Researchers at CSRH make significant contributions to scholarly knowledge and policy debates by extensively publishing research results in peer reviewed journals and books, and by presenting at a wide range of scholarly conferences. In addition, we ensure that our research effectively informs policy and practice, by communicating and discussing research results with partner organisations and community members, and providing tailored advice regarding policy and program implications.

A list of all publications and presentations appears in the appendices.

Seminars, symposiums & workshops

CSRH hosted a series of 12 seminars, symposiums and workshops during 2014, including a joint AIDS 2014 symposium with the Australian Research Centre in Sex, Health and Society (ARCSHS). Our seminar series continued to offer an opportunity for staff and postgraduate students, together with other stakeholders, to share their work with academics from both within and outside the Centre. The seminars were attended by a range of professionals who work with people affected by HIV, viral hepatitis and illicit drugs.

A list of all activities appears in the appendices.

Editorial contributions

CSRH staff in 2014 contributed to scholarly publications as editors, guest editors and members of editorial boards for a range of peer-reviewed journals. In addition, staff acted as ad hoc peer reviewers for a large number of prestigious journals.

A list of all editorial and reviewer contributions appears in the appendices.

Committee membership

CSRH has established relationships with other research institutions, universities, government bodies, non-government organisations and the community.

A list of all committee memberships appears in the appendices.

Collaborating organisations

In 2014, CSRH continued to work closely with national and international research, community, non-government and government partners that support people affected by blood-borne viruses and sexually transmissible infections.

A list of all collaborating organisations appears in the appendices.

Governance

Our work is supported by a comprehensive governance structure, representing external stakeholders and Centre staff. CSRH committees provide the Director with management oversight, platforms for strategic discussion, and day-to-day guidance regarding the operation of the Centre.

Centre Steering Committee

The Centre Steering Committee oversees the performance and direction of CSRH, ensuring the effective, efficient and sustainable pursuit of objectives, and assisting with strategic development. The Committee also monitors the Centre's operation and finances and safeguards compliance with UNSW policies and procedures.

The Centre Steering Committee members are:

- James Donald, Dean, UNSW Arts & Social Sciences
- Kristy Muir, Associate Dean (Research), UNSW Arts & Social Sciences*
- Duncan McDuie-Ra, Associate Dean (Research), UNSW Arts & Social Sciences*
- Melissa Roughley, General Manager, UNSW Arts & Social Sciences*
- Parinder Cardosa, General Manager, UNSW Arts & Social Sciences*
- Urania Stamios, Finance Manager, UNSW Arts & Social Sciences*
- Andrew Kell, Finance Manager, UNSW Arts & Social Sciences*
- Anthony Zwi, Professor, UNSW School of Social Sciences

Advisory Council

The Advisory Council is comprised of leaders in the health sector, industry and government, all committed to supporting the Centre in achieving its vision and mission. It is funded by UNSW and the Australian Government Department of Health. In 2014, the Advisory Council met on 4 April and 21 November.

The Advisory Council members are:

Chair:

- Bill Bowtell, Executive Director, Pacific Friends of The Global Fund (chair)

Members:

- Linda Bracken, Head of Multiplatform and Content Development, ABC Radio
- Levinia Crooks, CEO, Australasian Society for HIV Medicine
- The Hon Michael Kirby, AC CMG
- Garth Young, Managing Director, CSAW Health

*member for part of the year only

Scientific Advisory Committee

The Scientific Advisory Committee brings together experts from social science and public health research, government, and non-government organisations. It provides advice and guidance on research strategy that informs the Centre's strategic and work plans. The Scientific Advisory Committee is funded by UNSW and the Australian Government Department of Health. In 2014, the Steering Committee met on 11 April and 14 November.

The Scientific Advisory Committee comprises:

Co-Chairs:

- Pranee Liamputtong, Professor of Public Health, School of Public Health and Human Biosciences, La Trobe University
- Jake Najman, Professor of Sociology, School of Social Science, University of Queensland

Members:

- Lisa Bastian, Manager, Sexual Health and Blood-borne Virus Program, WA Government Department of Health
- Aaron Cogle, Deputy Director, National Association of People Living with HIV Australia
- Michael Costello, Executive Officer, Anwernekenhe National Aboriginal and Torres Strait Island HIV/AIDS Alliance
- Simon Donohoe, Manager, National Education Team, Australian Federation of AIDS Organisations
- Janelle Fawkes, CEO, Scarlet Alliance, Australian Sex Workers Association
- Darryl Kosch, Manager, Sexual Health & Viral Hepatitis Team, Victorian Department of Health
- Jayne Lucke, Director, Australian Research Centre in Sex, Health and Society, La Trobe University
- Annie Madden, Executive Officer, Australian Injecting and Illicit Drug Users League Inc.
- Lisa Maher, Head of Viral Hepatitis Epidemiology and Prevention Program, The Kirby Institute, UNSW Australia
- Jo Mitchell, Director, Centre for Population Health, NSW Ministry of Health
- Alun Richards, Director, Blood Borne Viruses and STIs, Queensland Government Department of Health, Queensland
- Helen Tyrrell, Chief Executive Officer, Hepatitis Australia

Centre Management Committee

The Centre Management Committee oversees the daily operations of CSRH and decisions that impact the Centre's resources, policies, procedures and business processes.

Centre Management Committee members are drawn from within CSRH and include:

- John de Wit, Director
- Carla Treloar, Deputy Director
- David Cami, Centre Manager
- Martin Holt, Senior Research Fellow
- Max Hopwood, Research Fellow*
- Christy Newman, Senior Research Fellow*

*member for part of the year only

HIV and sexual health risk and risk reduction

Community-based Organising against HIV and for Rights among Same-sex Attracted Men in Dar es Salaam, Tanzania

Aim: To document, learn from, and contribute to the ongoing evolution of community-based HIV-related work by same-sex attracted men in Dar es Salaam.

Status: Ongoing

CSRH staff: Peter Aggleton

Funding for CSRH contribution: Norwegian Research Council

Facilitating Increased HIV Testing and Making the Most of the HIV Testing Encounter

Aim: To review HIV testing and counselling guidelines across European country contexts.

Status: Ongoing

CSRH staff: Stephen Bell, John de Wit

Funding for CSRH contribution: AIDS Fonds (The Netherlands)

Frequency of Online Rapid Testing at Home (FORTH)

Aim: To evaluate whether access to home-based HIV testing kits increases the frequency of HIV testing among gay and bisexual men.

Status: Ongoing

CSRH staff: Martin Holt

Funding for CSRH contribution: National Health and Medical Research Council; Australian Government Department of Health

Gay Community Periodic Surveys

Aim: To conduct repeated, cross-sectional surveys of gay men in seven Australian states and territories and contribute to the behavioural surveillance system for HIV, monitoring sexual practices, drug use and patterns of testing for HIV and other STIs.

Status: Ongoing

CSRH staff: Martin Holt, Toby Lea, Limin Mao, Evelyn Lee, Peter Hull, John de Wit

Funding for CSRH contribution: State health departments; Australian Government Department of Health

GPs Understanding and Uptake of STI Testing Guidelines

Aim: To provide scientific support for the development of an online survey for General Practitioners, to assess the extent to which they are using STI testing guidelines for men who have sex with men.

Status: Ongoing

CSRH staff: Philippe Adam

Funding for CSRH contribution: Australian Government Department of Health

HIV Seroconversion Sub-study of Heterosexuals Newly Diagnosed with HIV

Aim: To effectively capture the experiences of women and heterosexual men newly diagnosed with HIV, allowing for more detailed consideration of issues that specifically apply to these individuals as part of the broader Seroconversion Study.

Status: Ongoing

CSRH staff: Asha Persson

Funding for CSRH contribution: Australian Government Department of Health

Identifying Undiagnosed HIV Infection among Australian Gay Men (the COUNT study)

Aim: To establish better estimates of the prevalence of undiagnosed HIV and the correlates of undiagnosed infection.

Status: Ongoing

CSRH staff: Martin Holt, Toby Lea, John de Wit

Funding for CSRH contribution: National Health and Medical Research Council; Australian Government Department of Health

Managing HIV, Sex and Risk among Serodiscordant Couples in a Changing Epidemic

Aim: To address a significant research gap by producing new knowledge of the social, medical, sexual and emotional management of HIV among both gay and heterosexual serodiscordant relationships in metropolitan and regional NSW.

Status: Ongoing

CSRH staff: Asha Persson, Christy Newman, John de Wit

Funding for CSRH contribution: NSW Ministry of Health; Australian Government Department of Health

Mobile Men with Money and HIV in Papua New Guinea

Aim: To examine the role of mining development on sexual health risk among traditional landowners, their sexual partners, and others affected by resource extraction development in Papua New Guinea.

Status: Ongoing

CSRH staff: Peter Aggleton

Funding for CSRH contribution: PNG Institute of Medical Research

NSW Rapid Testing Evaluation Framework (formerly Sydney Rapid HIV Testing Study)

Aim: To evaluate the delivery of rapid HIV testing in Sydney sexual health clinics and other settings.

Status: Ongoing

CSRH staff: Martin Holt

PozKids: HIV Positive children transitioning to adolescence and adulthood

Aim: To produce the first empirical picture of the needs and experiences of perinatally infected young people in Australia by gathering in-depth information both from this cohort in NSW, and from clinicians who provide direct care to this population across Australia.

Status: Ongoing

CSRH staff: Asha Persson, Christy Newman

Funding for CSRH contribution: Gilead Science; Australian Government Department of Health

PRELUDE: Implementation of HIV pre-exposure prophylaxis with antiretroviral medications among people at high risk for HIV infection

Aim: To evaluate the off-label provision of daily pre-exposure prophylaxis (PrEP) to people at high risk of HIV infection and inform policy development about HIV prevention through evaluation of mechanisms of PrEP implementation.

Status: Ongoing

CSRH staff: Dean Murphy, Martin Holt, John de Wit

Funding for CSRH contribution: Australian Government Department of Health

Priorities in Prevention: Attitudes of the HIV workforce to emerging HIV prevention technologies

Aim: To explore the opinions and beliefs among people who work in the development and implementation of health promotion and policy, and the delivery of HIV prevention and care services to gay men, with regards to specific strategies.

Status: Ongoing

CSRH staff: Dean Murphy, John de Wit, Philippe Adam

Funding for CSRH contribution: NSW Ministry of Health; Australian Government Department of Health

Sifting Hope from Hype: Media representations of the changing science of HIV prevention

Aim: To examine how the changing science of HIV prevention has been represented online, with a particular focus on understanding how treatment-as-prevention came to be discursively constituted as a 'game-changer' following the publication of the HPTN052 study findings.

Status: Ongoing

CSRH staff: Christy Newman, Asha Persson, John de Wit

Funding for CSRH contribution: Research Promotion Grant (UNSW Arts & Social Sciences)

Social Norms regarding HIV/STI Risk and Reduction Behaviours among MSM in Australia (CONNECT study)

Aim: To examine the social norms related to HIV/STI risk and risk reduction behaviours among men who have sex with men in Australia

Status: Ongoing

CSRH staff: John de Wit

Funding for CSRH contribution: Australian Government Department of Health

The E-Test Project

Aim: To examine the impact of a multi-faceted intervention program developed to increase HIV/STI re-testing rates in high-risk gay men.

Status: Ongoing

CSRH staff: John de Wit

Funding for CSRH contribution: Australian Government Department of Health

The PrEPARE Project

Aim: To investigate the attitudes of gay and bisexual men to new HIV prevention technologies, particularly pre-exposure prophylaxis (PrEP) and treatment as prevention.

Status: Ongoing

CSRH staff: Martin Holt, Dean Murphy, John de Wit,

Funding for CSRH contribution: NSW Ministry of Health; Australian Government Department of Health

The Vic PrEP Demonstration Project

Aim: To explore the acceptability, safety, impact and feasibility of prescribing daily pre-exposure prophylaxis (PrEP) to people at risk of HIV infection and investigate the uptake of PrEP among eligible individuals and patterns of PrEP use.

Status: Ongoing

CSRH staff: Dean Murphy, John de Wit, Martin Holt

Funding for CSRH contribution: Alfred Health; Australian Government Department of Health

Following Lives Undergoing Change (FLUX)

Aim: To conduct a longitudinal cohort study of drug use among gay and bisexual men

Status: Commenced

CSRH staff: Toby Lea

Funding for CSRH contribution: Australian Government Department of Health

Online Dating among Gay Men and its Contribution to Sexual Risk-taking (Cybersex Study Project 2011-2012)

Aim: To assess the contribution made by a range of underlying processes to gay men having unprotected anal intercourse with partners they met online.

Status: Completed

CSRH staff: Philippe Adam, John de Wit, Dean Murphy

Funding for CSRH contribution: NSW Ministry of Health; Australian Government Department of Health

Psychosocial Barriers to Routine Testing for HIV and STIs among Gay Men

Aim: To examine HIV and STI testing routines and assess covariates of testing among gay men in NSW.

Status: Completed

CSRH staff: Philippe Adam, John de Wit

Funding for CSRH contribution: South East Sydney Local Health District; Australian Government Department of Health

Viral hepatitis, injecting drug use and harm reduction

Exposure and Transition Study

Aim: To study socially vulnerable young people exposed to injecting drug use and examine their understandings of the risks of injecting drug use and for acquiring hepatitis C.

Status: Ongoing

CSRH staff: Joanne Bryant, Carla Treloar

Funding for CSRH contribution: NSW Ministry of Health; Australian Government Department of Health

Hepatitis C Risk Practice among Men who have Sex with Men

Aim: To explore the drug- and sex-related risk practices for hepatitis C among men who have sex with men in order to identify opportunities for harm reduction interventions.

Status: Ongoing

CSRH staff: Max Hopwood, Toby Lea

Funding for CSRH contribution: UNSW Arts & Social Sciences; Australian Government Department of Health

HIV, HCV and IDU among Fishermen in Malaysia

Aim: To assess the vulnerability of Malaysian fishermen to HIV and HCV acquisition and intravenous drug use.

Status: Ongoing

CSRH staff: Philippe Adam

Funding for CSRH contribution: University of Malaya

Pharmacy Needle and Syringe Survey ('Pharmacy Fitpack Survey')

Aim: To collect ongoing periodic data about people who obtain needles and syringes from pharmacies.

Status: Ongoing (undertaken intermittently)

CSRH staff: Joanne Bryant, Carla Treloar

Policing and Pathways to Diversion and Care

Aim: To examine police and their diversion practices in relation to young substance users, describe opportunities to improve young people's engagement in diversion, and produce training resources to support police in their diversion practices.

Status: Ongoing

CSRH staff: Joanne Bryant, Jake Rance

Funding for CSRH contribution: National Drug Law Enforcement Research Fund; Australian Government Department of Health

Staying Safe: How do long term injecting drug users avoid hepatitis C infection?

Aim: To discover how some injecting drug users have managed to avoid becoming infected with the hepatitis C virus, in spite of having injected drugs for many years in localities in which most injecting drug users have acquired the virus.

Status: Ongoing

CSRH staff: Carla Treloar, Jake Rance

Surveillance and Prevention of Viral Hepatitis among Prisoners

Aim: To explore the complex and inter-related nature of practices and environments surrounding the hepatitis C risk (and prevention strategies) in prisons.

Status: Ongoing

CSRH staff: Carla Treloar

Funding for CSRH contribution: Australian Government Department of Health

The Impact of Item Framing on Surveys of Attitudes to Harm Reduction Services and Knowledge about Hepatitis C

Aim: To collect annual data on the impact of survey-item framing on university attendee's attitudes to harm-reduction services and knowledge of viral hepatitis.

Status: Ongoing

CSRH staff: Max Hopwood

Funding for CSRH contribution: UNSW School of Social Sciences; Australian Government Department of Health

Understanding and Preventing Hepatitis C within Sexual Partnerships

Aim: To examine the sharing of drug injecting equipment within sexual relationships between people who inject drugs and adapt insights into recommendations for more effective policy and practice aiming at preventing hepatitis C transmission.

Status: Ongoing

CSRH staff: Carla Treloar, Joanne Bryant, Suzanne Fraser, Jake Rance

Funding for CSRH contribution: National Health and Medical Research Council; Australian Government Department of Health

ETHOS Project

Aim: To explore the barriers and to opioid substitution treatment among clients and health professionals, and incentives in the delivery and uptake of hepatitis C virus treatment in opiate pharmacotherapy clinics.

Status: Completed

CSRH staff: Carla Treloar, Jake Rance

Funding for CSRH contribution: National Health and Medical Research Council; Australian Government Department of Health

Living with, and treatment of, serious and chronic conditions

Improving Anti-Retrovital Treatment (ART) Initiation for People Living with HIV in Australia

Aim: To assess the uptake and initiation of ART from the perspectives of people living with diagnosed HIV who are not ART prescribers, as well as those who are prescribers.

Status: Ongoing

CSRH staff: John de Wit, Limin Mao, Philippe Adam, Christy Newman

Funding for CSRH contribution: National Health and Medical Research Council; Australian Government Department of Health

NAPWHA Stigma Audit Survey

Aim: To assess the experiences of stigma among people living with HIV, in collaboration with the National Association of People with HIV Australia.
